

KierWSP IMS		Process Number: 76	KierWSP
Title:	Severe Weather Decision Form

- Street Doctor 0300 126 1000 (08:00hrs to 18:00hrs)
- Duty Manager 01604 651074 (18:00hrs to 08:00hrs, weekends and bank holidays 24hrs)
- Email (not to be used for emergencies) severeweather@kierwsp.co.uk

Date			Time			Hazard Type and Readiness Colour
21 st June 2022			12:00hrs			Extreme High Temperatures
Hazard Period	From	12:00hrs	22.06.22 and 23.06.22	To	18:00hrs	22.06.22 and 23.06.22
Hazard Type	Heavy Rain	High Winds	Snow	Freezing Rain	Fog	Extreme High Temperatures
Further information on Hazard	Road surface temperatures are forecast to reach 50°C tomorrow afternoon and 52°C on Thursday Afternoon.
Readiness Colour			Major Hazard	Hazard	Close to Hazard	Caution	Safe
Duty Manager			Winter Duty Manager		Severe Weather Lead
Adam Britton			n/a		Paul McGrath

Weather Alert Information

Severe Weather Desk (SWD) In Place	No	SWD implemented	n/a	SWD Closed	n/a
Additional Resources	Our emergency response teams will remain vigilant to ever changing weather conditions and will react as required.
Short term Forecast	In the afternoon a few patches of cloud will develop in places but conditions will remain dry and largely sunny. The overnight period will see clear skies for most. A few patches of cloud might develop in places but it will remain dry. Tomorrow will start with dry conditions and plenty of sunshine. Patchy cloud will develop as the afternoon progresses but there will be no rain associated with it.
2-5 day Forecast	A dry and warm start to the day on Thursday. Later in the afternoon a line of potentially heavy showers will move in from the south. A cloudy start to Friday with further showers that might turn heavy. Turning drier in the afternoon with sunny spells possible. A cloudy and wet start to Saturday with spells of heavy and persistent rain in the morning but turning drier later on.
6-10 day Forecast (Winter Only)	N/A
Network Status and Condition	There are currently no issues on the highway network relating to this weather event
Winter Service Actions	N/A
Emergency Call Outs	There are currently no issues on the highway network relating to this weather event
Next Update	No further updates will be sent out for this weather event unless there is a change to the network status.				